The Content Manager is here to organize information, documentation & assets so that anyone working on the project can browse & access it easily. You will ensure key content is written & up to date for everyone on the project. The content manager will also rely on content management standards & best practices within Ubisoft.

- Gathering team requirements regarding content & features needed on the project
- Identifying & organizing key content within the production. Ensure this content is formalized, structured, shared & accurate
- Define information architectures, taxonomies and metadata strategies (frameworks for grouping and tagging content);
- Defining the governance (access rights, workflows, archiving policy, etc.) and ensure it is respected and it is applied by all teams on the project
- Providing content templates in order to accompany users in their content creation process
- Enriching content with metadata & tags to improve content findability on the production
- Defining workflows to ensure content is always enriched by the right experts at the right time
- Archiving & cleaning content on an ongoing-basis in order to keep the workspace used & useful
- Relying on user feedback, statistics and benchmark in order to improve the workspace and the way content is organized.
- Supporting teams on a daily basis to manage more efficiently their content to improve collaboration & communication
- Training people on how to create, manage & access content
- Accompany newcomers in their content onboarding
- Relaying on the production to share useful content outside the project (KC, Portfolio) & reuse resources coming from other projects
- Evangelize content management best practices and support the evolution of content management ambassadors within the team.
- Prepare and facilitate content workshops with clients, stakeholders or/and end users;

- Minimum 2 years of experience in content or information management
- Bilingual (English and French)
- Knowledge of content management concepts and best practices
- Ability to balance strategic vision and tactical to-dos
- Detail oriented, self-starter (autonomous)
- Strong communication and presentation skills
- Strong organizational skills
- Experience working in fast-paced/agile environments
- Familiarity with SharePoint or Confluence a plus
- Experience with leading change management process a plus
- A bachelors or masters degree in Information Science, Journalism, Technical writing or Communications preferred
- 1 to 2 years of experience in a digital content management environment
